GRAND JURY AT WORK

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Apr. 30.—Chairman Ladd of the Senate Oil Investigation Committee, placed in the record today a letter from Senator Arthur Capper, Republican, of Kansas, contradicting the testimony of John B. Alcorn, telegraph operator, at the Penrose Headquarters at the Republican National Convention in Chicago in 1920, in which it was stated that "Capper was among the hundred or more people who were in and out of the Penrose headquarters." Capper declared there was not the slightest foundation for the statement by Alcorn as far as he was concerned. H. Foster Bain, director of the Bureau of Mines, was called before the special district of Columbia grand jury, investigating criminal charges resulting from the oil investigation.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Hamp Buchanan were in the city today from their home at Kurten.

W. C. T. U. Worker Optimistic in Her Work

"The morale of womanhood is being broken down by smoking and drinking in either public or private places, and that one can not pay alone, but that other generations shall be made to suffer for their indiscretions," said Miss Grace Leigh Scott, morality worker among the young people for the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, in her talk last night to the College students at the new Assembly Hall at College. Miss Scott was introduced by W. H. Matthews, secretary of the Y. M. C. A. She is a remarkable young woman, good looking, and sympathetic with a pleasing voice and personality, which gets for her the attention of the hundreds of boys and girls she addresses daily. Though experienced in the work even to army service in France and in spite of all she knows of the depravity of human weakness, is a cheerful, hopeful optimist. The work Miss Scott is doing is work very much needed to be done, and if done in the right way will yield wonderfully beneficial results to the social and spiritual life of America. That Miss Scott is doing this work right on one doubts after they have heard her. She handles the subjects of social purity in a tactful, inoffensive, yet instructive manner. Her talks are inductive to young people and are of special value to parents and teachers. In sponsoring her lectures, the W. C. T. U. is rendering a much needed service in lifting moral standards through the process of education, at a time when moral standards admittedly are at a low ebb, and when constructive, tactful teaching on sex relations and proper home life is needed.

Miss Scott declared her pride and pleasure in working with an organization whose record had been unblemished. From the beginning the W. C. T. U. has worked for others and might properly be styled "organized mother love," and while it is "hats off" to the workers of the past, it must be "coats off and sleeves up" for the present workers, because much of the work is yet before them.

NATION-WIDE SURVEY SROWS DESTRUCTIVE CROWS A NUISANCE

That the damage done annually by the common black crow exceeds the cost of either the military or naval establishment of the United States for any one year from 1800 to 1916 has become evident as the result of a nation-wide survey of the destructive activities of the crow by ornithologists, sportsmen, farmers, game wardens and conservationists. These authorities estimate the present crow population to be in excess of 200,000,000, each of which does damage averaging one dollar a year.

Therefore, it is pointed out, the yearly "keep" of the crow costs the nation more than did the army or navy for any one of the 116 years prior to the World War—figures showing that the War Department's expenditures for the year 1800 totaled $2,560,879 and that money disbursed by the Navy Department amounted to $3,448,716, while the pre-war peak was reached in 1916 with expenditures of $164,635,577 by the War Department and $155,029,426 by the Navy Department; less, in each case, by millions, than the present yearly damage inflicted by the crow.

Reports by game wardens in nearly forty states charge the crow with the killing of countless numbers of young game, insectivorous and song birds, and the destruction of their nests and eggs. Many instances of the crow pecking out the eyes of lambs and young calves and the killing of young rabbits have been reported.

Large flocks of crows, driven from neighboring fields and woods by sportsmen and farmers armed with shotguns, are invading bird sanctuaries and game refuges in all parts of the country where, protected from hunters, the feathered marauders are attacked game birds and young animals which are being reared for restocking purposes.

MACCABEES ENJOYED BOX SUPPER BANQUET PARTY ON LAST NIGHT

The Woman's Benefit Association of the Macabees, Bryan chapter, had planned a box supper for Thursday night, April 24, at the Knights of Pythias Hall. They had asked the women to be present with a box and to bring a man to buy a box. They had also asked the women members to invite another couple to come with them.

Only a small crowd, but a lively and peppy one, responded for the occasion. The evening began with a grand march around the main room to the music of the piano and xylophone. Claude Walker, as master of ceremonies, selected three judges, Harry McDowell, J. G. Minckler and H. D. Cuykendall, to select the three prettiest boxes, choosing first, second and third. The first two-step to the handsomest man present; the second to make a speech and the third to dance a jig. The winners who entered in the spirit of the occasion and lived up to the demands were: Mrs. C. G. Walker, Mrs. F. H. Hood and Mrs. Harry McDowell.

As there were far more women than men present, some of the men bought more than one box. Then to make it more entertaining for all, the boxes were pooled by the men on an improvised table and the party partook standing in banquet style. Dancing in the main room closed the evening's fun.

CONTRACT BEEN LET CEMETERY GATEWAY

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Bryan Cemetery Association held Thursday the contract was let to O. Martensen of Bryan for the construction of the hand, some new entrance and ornamental gateway to the Bryan Cemetery grounds. That the long cherished plans of building such an addition of beauty and dignity to the Bryan cemetery property is soon to be a realization, is a source of great satisfaction and pride to the board of directors and the committee in charge of the plan for financing same. Work on the new gateway will begin at once.

The new entrance will be built at the southeast corner of the cemetery, just a few feet south of the present entrance, and will face south instead of west as at present. A background of the big oak trees which stand near the place, will give additional beauty to the new entrance, and the driveway, diverging from the gateway to the various sections of the cemetery grounds, as laid out in the plans of the landscape architect will make all parts of the cemetery beautiful and accessible.

The construction work of the ornamental entrance to be built will be of face brick, the gates of wrought iron, and all cap work of handsome stone mold. In its completion it will stand throughout the coming years, as a monument of reverence and devotion from the people of Bryan for their loved ones who sleep within the "silent city of the dead."

In addition, he was fined $10,000. He was convicted Monday and presented his resignation yesterday, effective at 10 o'clock this morning.

NATION-WIDE SURVEY SROWS DESTRUCTIVE CROWS A NUISANCE

That the damage done annually by the common black crow exceeds the cost of either the military or naval establishment of the United States for any one year from 1800 to 1916 has become evident as the result of a nation-wide survey of the destructive activities of the crow by ornithologists, sportsmen, farmers, game wardens and conservationists. These authorities estimate the present crow population to be in excess of 200,000,000, each of which does damage averaging one dollar a year.

Therefore, it is pointed out, the yearly "keep" of the crow costs the nation more than did the army or navy for any one of the 116 years prior to the World War—figures showing that the War Department's expenditures for the year 1800 totaled $2,560,879 and that money disbursed by the Navy Department amounted to $3,448,716, while the pre-war peak was reached in 1916 with expenditures of $164,635,577 by the War Department and $155,029,426 by the Navy Department; less, in each case, by millions, than the present yearly damage inflicted by the crow.

Reports by game wardens in nearly forty states charge the crow with the killing of countless numbers of young game, insectivorous and song birds, and the destruction of their nests and eggs. Many instances of the crow pecking out the eyes of lambs and young calves and the killing of young rabbits have been reported.

Large flocks of crows, driven from neighboring fields and woods by sportsmen and farmers armed with shotguns, are invading bird sanctuaries and game refuges in all parts of the country where, protected from hunters, the feathered marauders are attacked game birds and young animals which are being reared for restocking purposes.

MACCABEES ENJOYED BOX SUPPER BANQUET PARTY ON LAST NIGHT

The Woman's Benefit Association of the Maccabees, Bryan chapter, had planned a box supper for Thursday night, April 24, at the Knights of Pythias Hall. They had asked the women to be present with a box and to bring a man to buy a box. They had also asked the women members to invite another couple to come with them.

Only a small crowd, but a lively and peppy one, responded for the occasion. The evening began with a grand march around the main room to the music of the piano and xylophone. Claude Walker, as master of ceremonies, selected three judges, Harry McDowell, J. G. Minckert and H. D. Cuykendall, to select the three prettiest boxes, choosing first, second and third. The first to two-step with the handsomest man present; the second to make a speech and the third to dance a jig. The winners who entered in the spirit of the occasion and lived up to the demands were: Mrs. C. G. Walker, Mrs. F. H. Hood and Mrs. Harry McDowell.

As there were far more women than men present, some of the men brought more than one box. Then to make it more entertaining for all, the boxes were pooled by the men on an improvised table and the party partook standing in banquet style. Dancing in the main room closed the evening's fun.

CONTRACT BEEN LET CEMETERY GATEWAY

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Bryan Cemetery Association held Thursday the contract was let to O. Martinsen of Bryan for the construction of the hand some new entrance and ornamental gateway to the Bryan Cemetery grounds. That the long cherished plans of building such an addition of beauty and dignity to the Bryan cemetery property is soon to be a realization, is a source of great satisfaction and pride to the board of directors and the committee in charge of the plan for financing same. Work on the new gateway will begin at once.

The new entrance will be built at the southeast corner of the cemetery, just a few feet south of the present entrance, and will face south instead of west as at present. A background of the big oak trees which stand near the place, will give additional beauty to the new entrance, and the driveways, diverging from the gateway to the various sections of the cemetery grounds, as laid out in the plans of the landscape architect will make all parts of the cemetery beautiful and accessible.

The construction work of the ornamental entrance to be built will be of face brick, the gates of wrought iron, and all cap work of handsome stone mold. In its completion it will stand throughout the coming years, as a monument of reverence and devotion from the people of Bryan for their loved ones who sleep within the "silent city of the dead."

ALLEN SMITH BUYS BUSINESS PROPERTY MAIN STREET—TO ERECT TWO-STORY BRICK BUILDING

The business section from the corner of 23rd street, west side, northward for three business buildings, 80x125 feet, formerly owned by Mrs. John B. Mike, has been sold, according to contract duly made and signed, to Allen Smith, whose grocery store and poultry business occupies two of the buildings, the third, the one on the corner, being now tenanted by the Litt and Rozner fruit store. The consideration for the property was $20,000, according to Mr. Smith who furnished the above information.

NEW TWO-STORY MODERN BRICK TO BE ERECTED.

This is the business location of the old John B. Mike grocery store which flourished in Bryan some 40-or-50-years ago and which has been occupied by the Allen Smith businesses for the past 24-years. The structure as it stands is of brick but in a state of age and deterioration and Mr. Smith stated that when the deal had been fully consummated he would let contracts, probably the latter part of this week, for the erection of a new, modern, two-story brick building to be the home of his business establishments on the lower floor and office rooms for rental purposes upstairs. The new structure to be begun in a few days, will also contain the most modern and up-to-date storage plant to be used in his poultry business, he said. When completed, this new edifice will be a distinct asset to Bryan and to the Main street section, particularly the North-end.

A PERFECT GENTLEMAN

Miss Katie Daffan, who conducts a literary page in the Sunday's Houston Chronicle, asked by one of the subscribers to give the very best description of a perfect gentleman that she had ever found in her literary studies. Miss Daffan gave the following:

"We give you our own idea of the perfect gentleman" as he is described by King David in Psalm 15. Incidentally we like the expression "noble man" better than "perfect gentleman" but there can be no mistake about this description.

"Lord, who shall abide in thy tabernacle? Who shall dwell on thy holy hill?
"He that walketh uprightly and worketh righteousness and speaketh the truth in his heart.
"He that backbiteth not with his tongue nor doeth evil to his neighbor nor taketh up a reproach against his neighbor.

"In whose eyes a vile person is condemned, but he honoreth them that fear the Lord. He that sweareth to his own hurt and changeth not.

"He that putteth not out his money to usury nor taketh reward against the innocent. He that doeth these things shall never be moved."

JAY WALKING MENACE

"Jay-walking" is quite as great a menace to life and limb as jay driving. Persons who cross the street at all angles, or who bunch up on the pavement at busy corners to discuss weather or politics, cause gray hairs to accumulate prematurely on the head of the motorist. Safe driving is a fifty-fifty proposition. When drivers of two cars co-operate fifty-fifty accidents are not likely to happen. When pedestrian and driver co-operate fifty-fifty, nobody is likely to get run over. You can stand on any street corner any time of day and see men and women saunter serenely across the street without so much as a glance to right or left. Grown-ups are worse offenders in this respect than children. A man or woman will lecture the children about crossing streets cautiously, and then themselves walk straight across at any angle without lifting their absent-minded gaze from the pavement at their feet. There are far too many careless drivers, it is true, but there are just as many careless walkers.—Abilene Reporter.

ONLY SPACE BETWEEN

There is only space of time and space of accomplishments or lack of the latter between what has gone by, what is now and what is to come in the future. Most of us live in the past or in the future with little regard for the present. And there is one little word which designates either past or future as we may write it, and the difference in meaning, like the above opening sentence, is altered merely by "a space between." For instance, should we say "for some time," we are speaking of the past and history of what has gone by, when written on the leaves of experience and found satisfactory or wanting as the case may be. Again we may write or say "for some time," and then we are expressing hope or anticipation of something that is going to take place in a future day that lies out there somewhere ahead.

He who lives in the past is a "has-been." His day is over. He is living on the relics of accomplishments and all he can see in life is what he has done and no future shines with promise. To him who lives in the future, wonderful things are in store if he has the power and ability to dream wonderful things and to carry them out to some degree of completion.

Where do you live—in the "some time"—with a space between—or in the "sometime" with no space at all but a glorious outlook.

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION

"I hope all law loving and law enforcing men and women of the state will attend the coming precinct, county and state conventions," is the advice of R. Harper Kirby, of Austin, to his fellow Democrats. Good advice. Every citizen, man or woman, should take an active, outspoken part in the government of the State, and not leave it to the office seekers and reactionaries. Precinct elections are held next Saturday, May 3rd. Don't fail to be there and have a part in naming who will go as delegates to the county convention. This county delegations will elect delegates to the State convention. The State convention, at Waco, May 27, will elect delegates to the National convention. New York City, when delegates will nominate candidates for President and Vice President. Let the government have your help and influence by being present. It is a call to arms for the good citizenship of Texas in the battle for good government. No man or woman should fail to be there and do their duty as a good citizen.

A test of real gentility is not found in ones' acts toward friends but in the way we treat our enemies and our supposed inferiors.

OBEYING THE LAW

Everywhere in the world today—perhaps in the wake of the great World War, perhaps an accompaniment to the jazz music of the times—disregard for law and disrespect, as well as lax law enforcement, is rampant. It is true not only with nations as a whole, but down to the corporation laws or ordinances of the cities and smaller towns. The only remedial treatment that seems to produce any results is to make examples of certain individuals as a warning to others. If the sense of right and justice does not prevail, the might of the law needs to be invoked to preserve law, order and civilization over chaos, anarchy and annihilation.

An example of disregard for a new ordinance enacted by the City Commission of Bryan was seen on last Thursday night when the first alarm sounded and auto's scurried to the scene behind the first truck, not only menacing life and property but hindering the progress of the second truck. Admitting that there is something about a fire that attracts the public in general, both men and women; at the same time people should sanely realize that they are a nuisance and curiosity-filled people, who are getting in the way and hindering the saving of life and property.

On the occasion of Thursday night's alarm, we are told, a certain car got in the way of the second truck and almost stopped it. We are further told that this car's number was recorded and that the officials are still looking for the driver.

There is a definite law on this matter of racing to fires and people should acquaint themselves with the letter of it and abide accordingly or someone is going to furnish the "example" and then, as is usual, raise a "holler."

Fred W. Davis, endorsed by the Farm-Labor Union, has made his formal announcement that he will make an active campaign for United States Senator against Morris Sheppard. The more the merrier, but we doubt if Morris Sheppard can even get a thrill out of a contest with Davis.

Spring time is conducive to outdoor parties and many are being lived every day to the tennis courts, golf links or on some delightful picnic.

WHELOCK WHIMS

(Special to Bryan Daily Eagle.)
WHELOCK, Apr. 29.—Farm operations will be greatly delayed in this section on account of the heavy rains that fell last Friday night and Saturday. Some hail fell in parts of this vicinity. The stones being small, very little damage was done, however. Cotton will be late. Much acreage remains to be planted while many farmers will have to replant on account of the heavy rains.

Mrs. Charles Duncan returned Sunday from Kosse, where he underwent an operation and treatment for appendicitis. We are glad to report that she is improving rapidly.

The choir practice at the local church was well attended Friday night and under Mrs. D. W. Love's efficient leadership splendid results are developing. The choir meets each week for regular practice.

ICE PLANT WESTERN PUBLIC SERVICE CO. READY FOR BUSINESS

The Bryan Ice Plant of the Western Public Service Company has been improved to the extent of several thousand dollars in the past three months to make it an institution that will not only efficiently care for the needs of our rapidly growing city, but which is a creditable asset to the city in point of appearance. It has been placed on a basis of highest efficiency by its capable and energetic superintendent, W. E. Farmer, who has already taken an important place in the civic and business life of the city, but it also has taken on an attractive appearance with its new dress of paint, its new awning on the front, which gleams with its long row of electric lights during the night; and with the electric sign of the Western Public Service Company on the top.

Mr. Farmer on the Job.

The Bryan Ice Plant changed hands on Nov. 15, 1923, when it was purchased from R. W. Horlock and Company by its present owners. When the transfer was made, the management or direction of the plant fell automatically under the supervision of Paul Freeman of Navasota, division superintendent for the State of Texas for the Western Public Service Company of Colorado Springs, Colorado. Mr. Freeman appointed W. E. Farmer, at that city a city commissioner at Navasota and a man who had much experience in civic and business life, as local superintendent in Bryan. Mr. Farmer came on duty on February 1, this year.

Since his arrival he has been busy every hour of the day on improvements to the plant, making it qualify as doing justice to its new ownership, and building up an establishment and a force of workmen that will be competent and able to take care of the rush that has begun. As a testimonial of the returns which he is getting on his expenditure investment, the plant is now running day and night, for a part of each week, to supply the needs of the people of Bryan and vicinity.

To add to the beauty of the place, a woman's natural gift was called in to service and Miss Agnes Jameson outlined a plan which was carried through. In the entrance to the plant can be seen three large potted ferns and just outside the office is a bed of flowers that are just through the ground and will soon make the office room a place of beauty and to call forth words of appreciation from visitors.

New Equipment Ready.

But to merely say that improvements had been made would mean but little. To enumerate them would be more literal proof and here are some of the things that has been done. The old unsightly awning in front of the building was torn down and a new one constructed with its row of electric lights under the attractive electric sign with its intermittent flashes of the "Ice Plant." Everything has been repainted throughout and all over, making a very attractive appearance. New ice wagons were purchased and new teams added, teams that are a reflection upon the magnitude of the firm's standing in the business world and manned, almost in their entirety by white men and by local boys;—for it is Mr. Farmer's policy to use local men as long as they can be secured. Some of them are Allen and A. and M. boys who are working their way through school.

Among other things done, was the building of a new office building or addition to the main plant, jutting out at the southwest corner and fitting it up with modern office fixtures.

Miss Agnes Jameson of Navasota was employed as Secretary to Mr. Farmer and has charge of the office during his absence and will handle any service or other complaints that customers may have. The old pile of worn-out and useless ice cans that had been an eyesore for years was removed and a fence attractively painted, put around the adjacent property leased by the company.

Correctness in Weight.

The new delivery system finds each wagon equipped with a new set of scales and a new saw. The first mentioned article insures absolutely full weight and the second a square-cut piece of ice that will fit into the family's ice box without loss or trouble.

The company has spent a great deal of time and money in making this Bryan institution a business that can and will serve you in the best manner. The citizens of Bryan can do no less than give them patronage in return.

TIRED FEELING SURE SIGN OF TORPID LIVER

Touch Up Liver Tonight With Pepsinated Calomel—Tired Feeling and Biliousness Will Be Gone By Morning.

Nothing kicks back so quickly as a disordered liver. Pepsinated Calomel will give quick relief by thoroughly stimulating both the liver and kidneys, thus eliminating the poisons that are doing so much damage.

Calomel is recognized as practically the only medicine that will reach the liver. Others may relieve constipation, but they fail to touch the real cause of the trouble. However, ordinary calomel is so drastic in its action that many have deprived themselves of its liver cleansing power until they became acquainted with Pepsinated Calomel, which is not ordinary calomel. Because of its fine English Calomel it cleanses the liver thoroughly with no discomfort. It cannot nauseate or gripe. M. H. James Dr. Co., and all reliable druggists recommend and guarantee Pepsinated Calomel to bring relief from sundown and sunup or your money refunded. Try it—no guarantee you'll feel better tomorrow. BRAZOS COUNTY BOYS AND GIRLS CLUB DEPARTMENT

Club Notes and Farm News by County Agent C. L. Beason

Action's What Counts.

Lawrence W. Taylor says, in Better Crops, that "The Extension Service is a sales agency for ideas," and that "Demonstrating the value of better practices is not in itself sufficient. Only when the better practice has been put into actual use has the idea been sold."

Ross' 14 Points.

In the April Farm Journal, one A. B. Ross gives "14 points" concerning the general subject of soil fertility, crops, and fertilizers, among them being: (1) A sound system of agriculture must increase the productivity of the soil, or at least maintain it. (10) The only sound way to learn to fertilize a given farm is to carry out side-by-side tests on that farm. (11) In making fertilizer tests, the best guide is the record of results of the Experiment Station tests."

Bran Mash for Cutworms.

R. R. Reppert, entomologist for the Extension Service, gives the following formula for control of cutworms: Wheat bran, 25 pounds; white arsenic or Paris green, 1 pound; lemons or oranges, 6 fruits; low grade cane or sorghum molasses, 2 quarts; water, 1 gallon. Mix the bran and poison thoroughly while dry. Dilute the molasses with the amount of water named. Squeeze the lemon juice into this diluted molasses, then grind the rind of the lemons with a meat chopper and add this also to the liquid. Then mix the liquid thoroughly with the poison bran mixture. After even mixture has been obtained, add more water and mix until a mash is obtained that, when squeezed in the hand, readily falls apart.

Center Has Awakened.

A special to the Houston Post states that among the many things in the big program for the year, the Center, Texas, Chamber of Commerce includes aid for the agricultural demonstration work, the boys' and girls' canning clubs, and the 1,000 mile trip of the boys and girls in July. This 1,000 mile trip is planned for the club boys and girls of Shelby county. Many business and professional men of the county will help make up the party of some 500 people touring Texas, arriving at A. and M. College in time for the Short Course. This trip is one of the greatest things that has ever been planned for the betterment of agriculture in Shelby county, and the business men of Center and Shelby county are to be commended for their interest in the boys and girls of that good county. This trip will not only give the club boys and girls of Shelby county an opportunity to see something of the greatness of Texas, but it will also give them a vision of a better agriculture and they will return to their respective homes conscious of their opportunities to develop the wonderful agricultural resources of old Shelby county. Gentlemen, your goal is a noble one, and we have no doubt but what you will reach it in triumph.

How Do We Compare.

Orange township, Blackhawk county, Iowa, has been talked about by "rural uplift experts" as much as any other farm community in the country. How does the neighborhood in which you live measure up to this one? Here are the talking points: 142 farm homes in the township; 142 with newspapers and magazines; 132 with telephones; 125 with libraries, average volumes in owners' homes 160, in tenant homes 95; 80 with pianos; 79 with automobiles; 76 with vacuum carpet cleaners; 76 with gas or oil stoves; 72 with furnace heat; 68 with power washers; 63 with gas or electric lights; 57 with running water piped in; 57 with refrigerators; 47 with bath rooms; 45 with open-air sleeping porches; 36 with gas or electric irons; 34 with indoor toilets.—Farm Journal.

Country Boys' Needs.

Some weeks ago County Agent C. L. Beason offered his protest against the idea of restricting the observance of a "boys' week" to the city limits of Bryan, saying that the boys of the rural districts of Brazos county should not be overlooked, because it is they who will be the men of tomorrow, many of whom will be found either directing a better agriculture making possible a greater Bryan or filling important positions in the civic and economic life of a bustling city. Take from Bryan today the business and professional men who were once on the farms and you will not only take from the city fabric both warp and woof, but you will also see decay written on her future history. The country districts are teeming with boy life—boys for whom God has done much, but for whom man is doing little— anxiously awaiting a helping hand, a smile, a touch with a real man's life to make known to the world a Mike Stuart, a Jim Hogg, or even a Calvin Coolidge. Not that we think less of the city boy, but that we recognize the sterling worth of the boy "down on the farm," is why we offered our protest, and, "by golly," we are right, too.

Community Funerals.

Walter Armstrong, president of the Tabor Welfare Club, says that when he observes, or hears, of any one trying to block community progress, he is reminded of a statement made by John Moley of the International Harvester Company, during the short course at Tabor some years ago, and which was to the effect that some communities to ever make any progress there must first be held some funerals. What an indictment! Would the evidence as revealed in my life and yours toward the upbuilding of our community and the betterment of our fellowman implicate me? You? We can not always be in harmony with all the opinions of our fellowman, but let us not block the wheels of progress in this the morning march to a greater civilization.

Behind the Times.

"The man who must still be weaned from the primitive methods of fifty years ago is hopelessly out of the running in the march of progressive farming."

Reba Hughes' Letter.

Edgar Jones of the Woodville Club, Reba Hughes of the Millican Club, and Johnnie Peyton of the Benchley Club send in fine stories of their club work, and again it has been no little task to select the winner. Pohnnie Peyton, president of the Benchley club, mentions three important factors in the success of club work, willing work, pep and good attendance at regular meetings. Rae Huggins, secretary of the Tabor club, not only writes an interesting story of the progress of her club project, but also makes acknowledgment of the services rendered to her community as well as to herself personally by the Extension Service. Reba's story, the winner for the week, is as follows: "My club project is doing fine. I have chickens and tomatoes this year. My tomatoes were planted on March 6. I did not plant them in tubs or boxes, but planted them in two rows in the garden. On April 16 my mother and I knocked off the two rows, and took an iron rod and put holes in the ground to set the tomatoes in. We set them in the ground, but did not water them, putting them about one foot apart. On April 18 my mother told me that my tomatoes were not living. I transplanted them on April 19, watering them at the same time, with the result that they are now growing fine. I have three more rows yet to put out. My eggs were set on April 7, one hen being at the barn and two in the hen house. The one that is in the barn has 13 eggs, two eggs having been broken. One hen in the poultry house has 14 eggs, one egg having been broken. The other hen has all her eggs. None of my trap nested eggs have been broken. The hens have had a few mites on them, but I have dusted them with insect powders and sprinkled with water. We have changed hay each hen every week. I have leg bands ready for my baby chicks. In my sewing I have made a gingham dress, an apron, a pot holder, and finished my required cooking. REBA HUGHES, Millican Club."

The rain last Saturday prevented committees from Kurten and Millican from meeting with the county and home demonstration agents concerning plans for community fairs. It is suggested that all communities planning to next Saturday at 2 p. m., that no conflicts may occur.

TABOR TIDBITS

(Special to Bryan Daily Eagle). TABOR, Apr. 30.—Our community was visited Friday night and Saturday by the biggest rain that has fallen for quite a while. It has given the farmers a rest, but if the sunshine that we are having this afternoon continues, everything will dry off very rapidly.

The Community Welfare Club had a meeting Friday night at the school house. There was a large crowd present, including a number of people from Bryan. County Agent C. L. Beason brought out the Lions Club from Bryan, who entertained us for a while. We had a good meeting, but had to make it short on account of the weather conditions.

Prin. W. G. Colson spent the week-end with his wife at Frankston. Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Seyles are visiting Mrs. Seyles' parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Blanton of this community.

There was a B. Y. P. U. social at the church tonight. Group No. 2 entertained Group No. 1. We had a good B. Y. P. U. program Sunday night with a large attendance and a number of new members. We invite and urge everybody that can to come and help us.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Closs and Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Gandy and families visited relatives at Edge Sunday.

TWO NEGROES STAGED A PHYSICAL ARGUMENT OVER LOCATION OF A FENCE

Constable W. M. Conrad of Kurten reports having arrested negroes Tom McCloud and Sandy Green, the former a tenant of Dr. W. F. Odum and the latter farming on his own property, and releasing them on bond pending the next term of the Kurten precinct justice court under Judge John P. Yeager. The negroes were said to have had an argument over the location of a fence and it finished up in physical violence that did no great amount of damage to either. McCloud turned in a complaint and Conrad went down this morning after them. He reports having a unique trip; riding a mule where roads were impassable, crossing a slough filled with water and walking about two miles in addition.

GUTHRELL NUMBER 2 CREATING INTENSE INTEREST IN BRYAN

Oil interests are running high in Bryan again this week on account of the announcement that the new well being drilled a few feet from the big gasser which created so much excitement when it blew in near Carlos in Grimes county, is to be tested at once. This new well is known as Guthrell No. 2, and is the center of much interest as it is to prove not only its own merits but the merits of the big gas well which choked itself down several months ago.

A large number of Bryan people own acreage, leases and are otherwise financially interested in the outcome of Guthrell No. 2. John Guthrell of Navasota, promoter of the enterprise announced this week that Guthrell well No. 2 had drilled to a depth of within twenty feet of the depth of Well No. 1, which created so much excitement as a gasser last fall, and that the log of the new well exactly with that of Well No. 1. This statement gives confidence and creates much interest in the outcome of new well. The drillers stopped at a depth of twenty feet less than Well No. 1, so as not to get into the oil bearing sands before they were ready for it. The casing was set in the well last week and cemented and all preparations made for the drilling in. The well was drilled with which the well was drilled was removed and a standard rig installed with which to complete the well. The work of bailing out the water and mud was expected to be completed Saturday, and if so, the final drilling will commence today.

Several big trades of acreage, and leases have been made in Bryan since the news of the nearness to completion of the well was announced. Big prices, and the interest of a real oil boom are being evidenced.

Y. N. BARRON.

ASA W. RHODES DIED EARLY SUNDAY NIGHT AFTER LONG ILLNESS

On Sunday night at 9 o'clock at his home in this city, Asa W. Rhodes passed away, after a long and painful illness. For many years Mr. Rhodes has been in feeble health, during which time he was unable to be about his work, remaining close at home, where his noble daughter, Miss Aurea Rhodes, lived with him and gave to him that tender, loving care which made his last years peaceful and happy. Ever striving to bring the brightest of everything before her father, and with loving devotion ministering to him daily in the home life, the sweet companionship lasted through the days and weeks, months and years, until death took the father away.

Asa W. Rhodes was born in Sumpter county, Alabama, August 17, 1849. He was married in his native state to Miss Sallie Willis, and in 1883 the family moved to Texas and to Bryan, where they lived continuously except for about one year when they made their home in Abilene. In 1891 the good wife was called home to Heaven, leaving the father, one son and one daughter to mourn her loss. The daughter, Miss Aurea Rhodes, of this city, and the son, W. Giles Rhodes, of New Orleans, were at the bedside of their father when he ended.

Asa W. Rhodes was a staunch friend, a good neighbor, a courteous southern gentleman, and although quiet and retiring in his disposition, was beloved and honored by all who knew him. He was not old enough to be enlisted in the Confederate army, but in the reconstruction days which followed that bloody conflict, he was the youngest member of the Ku Klux Klan in his community, defending the right and upholding southern chivalry. Those higher principles of manhood were evidenced throughout his long life of 75 years, and today, his passing takes from his home and loved ones, his friends and neighbors and the entire community, a noble man. The funeral was held this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock from his late residence, Dr. John A. Held, pastor of the First Baptist church conducting the service at the home and at the cemetery. Following were the pallbearers: J. B. Stevenson, Charles Wetter, A. W. Buchanan, W. S. Higgs, John M. Lawrence, R. L. Buchanan.

OVER SIXTY THOUSAND DOLLARS RAISED ON NEW BAPTIST CHURCH

The finance committee, in charge of the building program for the First Baptist church, made partial report at the Sunday service. They report the work of raising funds progressing nicely, response from the members most enthusiastic and even beyond that they had expected. In beyond that many affairs taking place during the past week, which hindered the work of the committee to a great degree, the $60,000 mark has been passed, and everything is moving along well. During the past week the committee hopes to see the remaining members who have not had opportunity to contribute to the building fund and be ready to make a final report next Sunday if possible.

R. A. STRUWE OF CALDWELL, SOPH STUDENT AT A. & M., DROWNED IN FISH POND SWIMMING ON SUNDAY

Comrades Exhausted Themselves in Effort to Rescue Fellow-Student—Another Lad Nearly Lost Life in Attempt Save Struwe—J. S. Cole, Student From Dallas, Expert Swimmer and a Red Cross Life-Saver, Recovered Body on Second Dive After Arrived at Pond—Cramps Due to Going in Water While the Body Too Warm and Just After Eating Said Be Responsible for Raymond Struwe's Death—Body to Caldwell.

(Special to the Daily Eagle). COLLEGE STATION, April 28.—R. E. Struwe of Caldwell, a Sophomore student of the A. and M. College, was drowned in a lake about 3-miles west of College, about 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon. The body was not recovered until 4:20 o'clock. He went to the lake with about 25 or 30 other students for an afternoon swim. The place is a popular swimming pool for the students. Reaching the water, he and comrade, V. A. McCoy of Lubbock, were first in the water, together. McCoy gained a lead and was near the opposite bank when he heard a cry of distress and turned to see Struwe sinking with a struggle. He and others who were on the bank preparing to go in, went to the rescue. But the water was 15-feet deep and cold and there were many obstructions on the bottom, so that rescue work was greatly handicapped and those carrying it on did so with great personal danger. One of the divers brought the body to the surface once but was unable to hold it until help arrived. It was two hours before J. S. Cole of Dallas, a fellow-student and Red Cross Life-saver, arrived. He went into the water immediately, after being warned that the water was cold and dangerous. He showed his determination by diving once from an improvised raft. Another boy from the number who were tired out with their efforts, went to his help. On his second dive, he brought the body to the surface and it was ultimately brought ashore. The boy was past resuscitation but a brother of the deceased, a senior at the College, his classmates and a few others, insisted on first aid work, though Dr. B. U. Sims, who was present had pronounced the corpse lifeless.

COLLEGE SWIMMING HOLE

From the A. and M. College down past the Kyle athletic field, and on westward, across the road and down to the Fish Pond, about 400-yards off the Koppe road and about a mile and a half east of the old Providence church on the Jones Bridge Road, on the T. R. Batte estate, there runs a beaten path, worn by the shoes of College boys who, beginning at about this season of the year, wend their way in leisure hours to what has been made the College swimming hole.

This Fish Pond, or miniature lake, is about 200-feet wide and nearly 1,000 feet long. It is an artificial pond, having been made by the damming of a stream at a narrow point, and is kept full nearly all the year round by springs which pour into it clear, cold water from underground. It is this water that creates in the pond, currents that are bitter cold, in contrast with warmer water at places, and makes swimming dangerous. In addition, the bottom is strewn with wire, old logs and other debris and with lily-pads that have streamers reaching to the bottom.

Another Narrow Escape. It was in such a situation that the rescue work was carried on by boys who exerted themselves to utmost fatigue in the effort to save the life of a fellow-student or to recover his body. When J. S. Cole at about 4:00 o'clock, accompanied by Publicity Director Frank O. Martin and others, the boys who had been endeavoring to locate Struwe were standing on the bank, shivering and completely exhausted. One lad who had succumbed to cramps and lost the use of one arm, and who had managed to swim on his back, was being worked on by a doctor who had arrived there, and by others.

The little lake leading into the pond was impassable to cars except when man-power in the person of about 20-students got around a car and pushed it through. Two or three cars were gotten through in this way by crowds that had collected when the story of the drowning became generally known.

Capt. C. O. Watkins or "Cap" Watkins as he is called at the College, who is in charge of the trucks working on the College property, finally was pushed through. He had brought a boat and grappling hooks on a truck which were not necessary after the heroic work of Student Cole.

Body to Caldwell. The body of Raymond A. Struwe was placed in one of the three cars that had been pushed through to the lake and taken to College and to the McCulloch-Gordon Mortuary parlors at Bryan, where it was prepared for burial and shipped on this morning to Caldwell, via Hearne. It was accompanied by the brother, A. E. Forester of Rosenberg, Captain of Company "H," to which the deceased belonged; T. C. Bain, room-mate of the deceased who was with him at the time he drowned; and others.

Dr. R. B. Ehlinger had been summoned at the very first but he was assisting Dr. W. H. Oliver of Bryan in an operation at the Bryan Hospital, Dr. J. O. Morgan of College having been stricken with acute appendicitis early Sunday morning. Then sent Dr. B. U. Sims to the scene. Miss Omelia Orsak, head nurse of the Bryan Hospital, had preceded Dr. Sims to the pond when notification was first received.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday morning at Caldwell, conducted by Rev. W. H. Matthews of College.

JUSTICE COURT BEGAN MAY TERM TODAY

The May term of justice court, Judge J. W. Hamilton on the bench, began its sessions this morning. The docket was set for the term. No criminal cases are on the docket this time, there being only small cases of a minor nature.

second, though he and Jim Huggins ran a close race, and Prof. J. L. Cobb, the second judge, awarded him a sack of peanuts. Incidentally, the judges later participated in the consumption of the prizes awarded.

M. M. Erskine, Soloist. The county agent then took the time to explain briefly the Dallas Morning News-Semi-Weekly Farm News prizes of $1,000 for the best five-acre production of non-irrigated cotton and asking Tabor community farmers to get in this competition, stating that even if the prize were not won—and anyone stood a good chance—the cotton production would have been increased and that would more than pay for the extra trouble.

Dr. Searcy then picked up a violin and remarked that if any member of the Lions, excluding Jess Cook, would get up before the crowd and sing a song, he would endeavor to produce on the violin. M. M. Erskine of the City National Bank, finally took him up and sang, "My Wild Irish Rose." Dr. Searcy then made a very creditable beginning to a piece which was not finished. When asked the name of it, he said he was unable to state.

Many From Bryan.

H. D. Cuykendall opened the meeting with attempts on the fiddle, with Miss Rae Huggins accompanying on the piano. He also closed it early on account of the threatening storm, leading "Ohi! Lad of Mine" and "I Bought a Goat," both to the tune of "Sweet Adeline."

President Walter Armstrong expressed as best it could be expressed in words, the appreciation of himself and those present, for the program rendered by the Lions Club of Bryan and hoped that they would return again in a near-future meeting.

Among those present from Bryan were: Dr. and Mrs. C. A. Searcy, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Hensarling, C. S. Martin and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Jess M. Cook, and Mrs. A. Hugo Jahn, Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Parks, Julius B. Christian, M. M. Erskine, H. H. Young and family, E. M. Dodson, Miss Corrie Suber, W. B. Saunders, Mrs. Dora Wilson, Prof. Cobb and family, Miss Lida Belle Pipkin, County Agent C. L. Beason, and H. D. Cuykendall of the Bryan Eagle and Master Richard Ramsey.

AN UNUSUALLY LARGE ATTENDANCE FUNERAL S. S. CLAY OF MILICAN

The funeral attendance at the services for Sheppard S. Clay, Brazos Bottom planter, who died on Tuesday at Temple of acute appendicitis, after being taken to a hospital there for attention, was one of the largest rural funerals ever held in his section, in the opinion of W. S. Howell of Bryan, who was present.

Sheppard Clay has been a resident of Brazos county all his life and was aged about 48 years at the time of his death. He lived about 4 miles west of Millican, near the county line, and was a prosperous and well-liked plantation owner.

The body arrived at Brenham on the 4:16 Santa Fe and was taken immediately to Independence, a little inland town about 14 miles distant where services were held at the grave. There were people present from all surrounding territory, said Mr. Howell, and added that there must have been more than 100 automobiles in the funeral procession. There were two truckloads of flowers, one of which was sent from Bryan by his many friends in this city as he often visited here and transacted all his business in this place.

DISTRICT COURT OPENS TWO WEEKS FROM TODAY

(From Monday's Daily.) District court for Brazos county will open here in Bryan at the court room at the court house, two weeks from this morning, Monday, May 12, according to County Attorney Oak McKenzie.

BRAZOS COUNTY BOYS AND GIRLS CLUB DEPARTMENT

Club Notes and Farm News by County Agent C. L. Beason

Action's What Counts.

Lawrence W. Taylor says, in Better Crops, that "The Extension Service is a sales agency for ideas," and that "Demonstrating the value of better practices is not in itself sufficient. Only when the better practice has been put into actual use has the idea been sold."

Ross' 14 Points.

In the April Farm Journal, one A. B. Ross gives "14 points" concerning the general subject of soil fertility, crops, and fertilizers, among them being: (1) A sound system of agriculture must increase the productivity of the soil, or at least maintain it. (10) The only sound way to learn to fertilize a given farm is to carry out side-by-side tests on that farm. (11) In making fertilizer tests, the best guide is the record of results of the Experiment Station tests."

Bran Mash for Cutworms.

R. R. Reppert, entomologist for the Extension Service, gives the following formula for control of cutworms: Wheat bran, 25 pounds; white arsenic or Paris green, 1 pound; lemons or oranges, 6 fruits; low grade cane or sorghum molasses, 2 quarts; water, 1 gallon. Mix the bran and poison thoroughly while dry. Dilute the molasses with the amount of water named, squeeze the lemon juice into this diluted molasses, then grind the rind of the lemons with a meat chopper and add this also to the liquid. Then mix the liquid thoroughly with the poison bran mixture. After even mixture has been obtained, add more water and mix until a mash is obtained that, when squeezed in the hand, readily falls apart.

Center Has Awakened.

A special to the Houston Post states that among the many things in the big program for the year, the Center, Texas, Chamber of Commerce includes aid for the agricultural demonstration work, the boys' and girls' canning clubs, and the 1,000 mile trip of the boys and girls in July. This 1,000 mile trip is planned for the club boys and girls of Shelby county. Many business and professional men of the county will help make up the party of some 500 people touring Texas, arriving at A. and M. College in time for the Short Course. This trip is one of the greatest things that has ever been planned for the betterment of agriculture in Shelby county, and the business men of Center and Shelby county are to be commended for their interest in the boys and girls of that good county. This trip will not only give the club boys and girls of Shelby county an opportunity to see something of the greatness of Texas, but it will also give them a vision of a better agriculture and they will return to their respective homes conscious of their opportunities to develop the wonderful agricultural resources of old Shelby county. Gentlemen, your goal is a noble one, and we have no doubt but what you will reach it in triumph.

How Do We Compare.

Orange township, Blackhawk county, Iowa, has been talked about by "rural uplift experts" as much as any other farm community in the country. How does the neighborhood in which you live measure up to this one? Here are the talking points: 142 farm homes in the township; 142 with newspapers and magazines; 132 with telephones; 125 with libraries, average volumes in owners' homes 160, in tenant homes 95; 80 with pianos; 79 with automobiles; 76 with vacuum carpet cleaners; 76 with gas or oil stoves; 72 with furnace heat; 68 with power washers; 63 with gas or electric lights; 57 with running water piped in; 57 with refrigerators; 47 with bath rooms; 45 with open-air sleeping porches; 36 with gas or electric irons; 34 with indoor toilets.—Farm Journal.

Country Boys' Needs.

Some weeks ago County Agent C. L. Beason offered his protest against the idea of restricting the observance of a "boys' week" to the city limits of Bryan, saying that the boys of the rural districts of Brazos county should not be overlooked, because it is they who will be the men of tomorrow, many of whom will be found either directing a better agriculture making possible a greater Bryan or filling important positions in the civic and economic life of a bustling city. Take from Bryan today the business and professional men who were once on the farms and you will not only take from the city fabric both warp and woof, but you will also see decay written on her future history. The country districts are teeming with boy life—boys for whom God has done much, but for whom man is doing little— anxiously awaiting a helping hand, a smile, a touch with a real man's life to make known to the world a Mike Stuart, a Jim Hogg, or even a Calvin Coolidge. Not that we think less of the city boy, but that we recognize the sterling worth of the boy "down on the farm," is why we offered our protest, and "by golly," we are right, too.

Community Funerals.

Walter Armstrong, president of the Tabor Welfare Club, says that when he observes, or hears of any one trying to block community progress, he is reminded of a statement made by John Moley of the International Harvester Company, during the short course at Tabor some years ago, and which was to the effect that some communities to ever make any progress there must first be held some funerals. What an indictment! Would the evidence as revealed in my life and yours toward the upbuilding of our community and the betterment of our fellowman implicate me? You? We can not always be in harmony with all the opinions of our fellowman, but let us not block the wheels of progress in this morning march to a greater civilization.

Behind the Times.

"The man who must still be weaned from the primitive methods of fifty years ago is hopelessly out of the running in the march of progressive farming."

Reba Hughes' Letter.

Edgar Jones of the Woodville Club, Reba Hughes of the Tabor Club, and Johnnie Peyton of the Benchley Club send in fine stories of their club work, and again it has been no little task to select the winner. Johnnie Peyton, president of the Benchley club, mentions three important factors in the success of club work, willing work, pep and good attendance at regular meetings. Reba Hughes, secretary of the Tabor club, not only writes an interesting story of the progress of her club project, but also makes acknowledgment of the services rendered to her community as well as to herself personally by the Extension Service. Reba's story, the winner for the week, is as follows: "My club project is doing fine. I have chickens and tomatoes this year. My tomatoes were planted on March 6. I did not plant them in tubs or boxes, but planted them in two rows in the garden. On April 16 my mother and I knocked off the two rows, and took an iron rod and put holes in the ground to set the tomatoes in. We set them in the ground, but did not water them, putting them about one foot apart. On April 18 my mother told me that my tomatoes were not living. I transplanted them on April 19, watering them at the same time, with the result that they are now growing fine. I have three rows set on to put out. My eggs were set on April 7, one hen being at the barn and two in the hen house. The one that is in the hen house has 13 eggs, two of which have been broken. One hen egg having been broken. One hen in the poultry house has 14 eggs. The one egg has all her eggs. None of my trap nests eggs have been broken. The hens have had a few mites on them, but I have dusted them with insect powders and sprinkled them. The mites are now about all gone. We have changed hay under each hen every week. I have leg bands ready for my baby chicks. In my sewing I have made a gingham dress, an apron, a pot holder, and finished my required cooking. REBA HUGHES, Millican Club."

The rain last Saturday prevented committees from Kurten and Millican from meeting with the county and home demonstration agents concerning plans for community fairs. It is suggested that all communities planning to have fairs send representatives on next Saturday at 2 p. m., that no conflicts may occur.

TWO NEGROES STAGED A PHYSICAL ARGUMENT OVER LOCATION OF A FENCE

Constable W. M. Conrad of Kurten reports having arrested negroes Tom McCloud and Sandy Green, the former a tenant and the latter a farmer, and the latter farming on his own property, and releasing them on bond pending the next term of the Kurten precinct justice court under Judge John P. Yeager. The negroes were said to have had an argument over the location of a fence and it finished up in physical violence that did no great amount of damage to either. McCloud turned in a complaint and Conrad went down this morning after them. He reports having a unique trip; riding a mule where roads were impassable, crossing a slough filled with water and walking about two miles in addition.

CUTHRELL NUMBER 2 CREATING INTENSE INTEREST IN BRYAN

Oil interests are running high in Bryan again this week on account of the announcement that the new well being drilled a few feet from the big gasser which created so much excitement when it blew in near Carlos in Grimes county, is to be tested at once. This new well is known as Cuthrell No. 2, and is the center of much interest as it is to prove not only its own merits but the merits of the big gas well which choked itself down several months ago.

A large number of Bryan people own acreage, leases and are otherwise financially interested in the outcome of Cuthrell No. 2. John Cuthrell of Navasota, promoter of the enterprise announced this week that Cuthrell well No. 2 had drilled to a depth of within twenty feet of the depth of Well No. 1, which created so much excitement as a gasser last fall, and that the log of the new well exactly with that of Well No. 1. This statement gives confidence and creates much interest in the outcome of new well. The drillers stopped at a depth of twenty feet less than Well No. 1, so as not to get into the oil bearing sands before they were ready for it. The casing was set in the well last week and cemented and all preparation made for the drilling in. The rotary machine with which the well was drilled was removed and a standard rig installed with which to complete the well. The work of bailing out the water and mud was expected to be completed Saturday, and if so, the final drilling will commence today.

Several big trades of acreage, and leases have been made in Bryan since the news of the nearness to completion of the well was announced. Big prices, and the interest of a real oil boom are being evidenced.

ASA W. RHODES DIED EARLY SUNDAY NIGHT AFTER LONG ILLNESS

On Sunday night at 9 o'clock at his home in this city, Asa W. Rhodes passed away, after a long and painful illness. For many years Mr. Rhodes has been in feeble health, during which time he was unable to be about his home, remaining close to his mother, where his loving care which made his last years peaceful and happy. Ever striving to bring the brightest of everything before her father, and with loving devotion ministering to him daily in the home life, the sweet companionship lasted through the days and weeks, months and years, until death took the father away.

Asa W. Rhodes was born in Sumpter county, Alabama, August 17, 1849. He was married in his native state to Miss Sallie Willis, and in 1883 the family moved to Texas and to Bryan, where they lived continuously except for about one year when they made their home in Abilene. In 1891 the good wife was called home to Heaven, leaving the father, one son and one daughter to mourn her loss. The daughter, Miss Aurea Rhodes, of this city, and the sons, W. Giles Rhodes, of New Orleans, were at the bedside of their father when the end came.

Asa W. Rhodes was a staunch friend, a good neighbor, a courteous southern gentleman, and although quiet and retiring in his disposition, was beloved and honored by all who knew him. He was not old enough to be enlisted in the Confederate, but, in the reconstruction days which followed that bloody conflict, he was the youngest member of the Ku Klux Klan in his community, defending the right and upholding southern chivalry. Those higher principles of manhood were evidenced throughout his long life of 75 years, and today, his passing takes from his home and loved ones, his friends and neighbors and the entire community, a noble man. The funeral was held this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock from his late residence, Dr. John A. Held, pastor of the First Baptist church conducting the service at the home and the pallbearers: J. B. Stevenson, Charles Wetter, A. W. Buchanan, W. S. Higgs, John M. Lawrence, R. L. Buchanan.

OVER SIXTY THOUSAND DOLLARS RAISED ON NEW BAPTIST CHURCH

The finance committee, in charge of the building program for the First Baptist church, made partial report at the Sunday service. They reported the work of raising funds progressing nicely, response from the members most enthusiastic and even beyond that they had expected. In spite of the many affairs taking place during the past week, which hindered the work of the committee to a great degree, the $60,000 mark has been past, and everything is moving along well. During the present week the committee hopes to see the remaining members who have not had opportunity to contribute to the building fund and be ready to make a final report next Sunday if possible.

JUSTICE COURT BEGAN MAY TERM TODAY

R. A. STRUWE OF CALDWELL, SOPH STUDENT AT A. & M., DROWNED IN FISH POND SWIMMING ON SUNDAY

Comrades Exhausted Themselves in Effort to Rescue Fellow-Student—Another Lad Nearly Lost Life in Attempt Save Struwe—J. S. Cole, Student From Dallas, Expert Swimmer and a Red Cross Life-Saver, Recovered Body on Second Dive After Arrived at Pond—Cramps Due to Going in Water While the Body Too Warm and Just After Eating Said Be Responsible for Raymond Struwe's Death—Body to Caldwell.

(Special to the Daily Eagle). COLLEGE STATION, April 28.—R. E. Struwe of Caldwell, a Sophomore student of the A. and M. College, was drowned in a lake about 3-miles west of College, about 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon. The body was not recovered until 4:20 o'clock. He went to the lake with about 25 or 30 other students for an afternoon swim. The place is a popular swimming pool for the students. Reaching the water, he and comrade, V. A. McCoy of Lubbock, were first in the water, together. McCoy gained a lead and was near the opposite bank when he heard a cry of distress and turned to see Struwe sinking with a struggle. He and others who were on the bank preparing to go in, went to the rescue. But the water was 15-feet deep and cold and there were many obstructions on the bottom, so that rescue work was greatly handicapped and those carrying it on did so with great personal danger. One of the divers brought the body to the surface once but was unable to hold it until help arrived. It was two hours before J. S. Cole of Dallas, a fellow-student and Red Cross Life-saver, arrived. He went into the water immediately, after being warned that the water was cold and dangerous. He showed his determination by diving once from an improvised raft. Another boy from the number who were tired out with their efforts, went to his help. On his second dive, he brought the body to the surface and it was ultimately brought ashore. The boy was past resuscitation but a brother of the deceased, a senior at the College, his classmates and a few others, insisted on first aid work, though Dr. B. U. Sims, who was present had pronounced the corpse lifeless.

MRS. G. H. HUNNICUTT DIED MONDAY AFTER YEARS OF SUFFERING

Mrs. Eula Trant Hunnicutt, wife of G. H. Hunnicutt of this city, passed to eternal rest at the family home, Monday, April 28, at 4 a. m. Mrs. Hunnicutt had been a sufferer for the past several years, and although all that human hands and medical skill could do for her relief were done, the dread disease could not be stayed, and the gentle spirit went home to God who gave it peacefully and sweetly as a child asleep on its mother's breast at the time above stated.

Mrs. Eula Trant Hunnicutt was the daughter of W. P. Trant of this city, and was born at Keith, Grimes county, Texas, March 10, 1871, being 52 years of age at the time of her death. Mr. and Mrs. Hunnicutt have made their home in Bryan for the past several years, and a host of loving friends and neighbors who knew the family intimately, and a wide circle of acquaintances, join the bereaved family in their grief and sad bereavement. Deceased is survived by her husband, one son, Trant Hunnicutt, and two daughters, Mrs. Jim Francis, Jr., of Goose Creek, and Lovie Ruth Hunnicutt of this city. She is also survived by her father, seven brothers and also six sisters, as follows: Mrs. E. L. Long, of Wellington, Kansas; Mrs. Charles Smith and Mrs. Lovie Gammann of Mobile, Ala.; Mrs. J. E. Brown, Mrs. George Foster and Miss Elva Trant of Bryan.

Mrs. Hunnicutt was a life-long member of the First Baptist church and her pastor, Dr. John A. Held, of this city, will conduct the funeral services at the old family burying ground near Keith, Grimes county, Wednesday afternoon. The body will be shipped to Keith Tuesday night, upon the arrival of Mrs. Long, a sister of the deceased, who comes from her home in Wellington, Kans., for the funeral.

LIONS CLUB MADE A HIT WELFARE CLUB MEETING AT TABOR

About 10 members, representing the Lions Club of Bryan, motored out to Tabor last night and assisted in putting on the entertainment for the regularly scheduled meeting of the Tabor Welfare Club. There was a fair local crowd out to hear the Lions roar and a goodly delegation made the trip from Bryan. Shortly after the opening of the meeting, Walter Armstrong, president of the club, after announcing that no set program had been arranged, turned the meeting over to President C. A. Searcy of the Lions Club. He first called on his song-leader, Jess M. Cook, who passed out Lions song booklets and lead in several songs sung by all. Then the Lions themselves sang a few numbers.

Pie-Eating Contest. Dr. Searcy made a very good talk explaining what Lionism is, what it means and what it stands for as well as what the Bryan Lions are trying to accomplish. He stated that to be present and to assist in the program was a pleasure. He spruced up his talk with a couple of humorous stories, which, withal had a good moral that one could draw from them. County Agent C. L. Beason then furnished the fun-fest of the evening when he produced a pie, cut into quarters and called for two representatives from Tabor and two from the Lions Club to contest for the prize, a big barber-pole stick of candy. Jim Huggins and Bud Henry took a stand for Tabor and Jess Hensarling and C. S. Martin for the Lions. The contest was on and no one present yet can figure out how Bud Henry got rid of his so quickly, but he was awarded the prize by one of the two judges, Miss Lida Belle Pipkin. Jesse Hensarling was second, though he and Jim Huggins ran a close race, and Prof. J. I. Cobb, the second judge, awarded him a sack of peanuts. Incidentally, the judges later participated in the consumption of the prizes awarded.

M. M. Erskine, Soloist. The county agent then took the time to explain briefly the Dallas Morning News-Semi-Weekly Farm News prizes of $1,000 for the best five-acre production of non-irrigated cotton and asking Tabor community farmers to get in this competition, stating that even if the prize were not won—and anyone stood a good chance—the cotton production would have been increased and that would more than pay for the extra trouble.

Dr. Searcy then picked up a violin and remarked that if any member of the Lions, excluding Jess Cook, would get up before the crowd and sing a song, he would endeavor to produce on the violin. M. M. Erskine of the City National Bank, finally took him up and sang, "My Wild Irish Rose." Dr. Searcy then made a very creditable beginning to a piece which was not finished. When asked the name of it, he said he was unable to state.

Many From Bryan. H. D. Cuykendall opened the meeting with attempts on the fiddle, with Miss Rae Huggins accompanying on the piano. He also closed it early on account of the threatening storm, leading "Oh! Lad of Mine" and "I Bought a Goat," both to the tune of "Sweet Adeline."

President Walter Armstrong expressed as best it could be expressed in words, the appreciation of himself and those present, for the program rendered by the Lions Club of Bryan and hoped that they would return again in a near-future meeting.

AN UNUSUALLY LARGE ATTENDANCE FUNERAL S. S. CLAY OF MILLICAN

The funeral attendance at the services for Sheppard S. Clay, Brazos Bottom planter, who died on Tuesday at Temple of acute appendicitis, after being taken to a hospital there for attention, was one of the largest rural funerals ever held in his section, in the opinion of W. S. Howell of Bryan, who was present.

Sheppard Clay has been a resident of Brazos county all his life and was aged about 48 years at the time of his death. He lived about 4 miles west of Millican, near the county line, and was a prosperous and well-liked plantation owner.

The body arrived at Brenham on the 4:16 Santa Fe and was taken immediately to Independence, a little inland town about 14 miles distant where services were held at the grave. There were people present from all surrounding territory, said Mr. Howell, and added that there must have been more than 100 automobiles in the funeral procession. There were two truckloads of flowers, one of which was sent from Bryan by his many friends in this city as he often visited here and transacted all his business in this place.

There being no bridge on this crossing the current was so swift that it carried him, wagon and team down current about 100 feet, and lodged them in a wire fence and trees. The bed was lifted from the wagon and drifted 8 or 10 feet further and lodged in brush. Henderson Horne, negro, was present when the accident occurred. Horne succeeded in cutting the hame strings from the mule's harness and got them out of the water. He also helped to rescue the other negro.

MUSIC STUDY CLUB IN A COMPLIMENTARY RECITAL FOR PUBLIC

On the night of May 10, the Bryan Music Study Club will sponsor a recital complimentary to the public of this city and surrounding community. Mrs. O. E. Webb, of Dallas, according to arrangements made will bring an artist, a singer, who her and the general public can be assured of a treat and an enjoyable evening, instructive as well as entertaining. There will be no admission to this recital which will be held, probably, in Carnegie Library auditorium.

The club met on Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock in regular meeting, the last before the summer recess, at the Carnegie Library. The fore part of the meeting was devoted to a business session when reports were heard from the secretary, treasurer and chairman of committees. It was found that the net proceeds to the club from the production of the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra amounted to $116.00.

Mrs. Cazell Delegate.

Then the matter of delegates to the State Federation of Music Clubs at Austin from April 29 to May 2, inclusive, was discussed and Mrs. Gabe Cazell selected as delegate and Mrs. Mills P. Walker, alternate. A number of women members of the club are planning to make the trip also if the weather conditions permit.

The club, after talking over the situation, decided to join the Fourth District Federation of Women's Clubs, and action toward that end will be taken. It was decided that during the summer recess the executive committee should be empowered to act for the club and transact all business that might come up.

New President Installed.

At the close of the business session, Mrs. W. S. Howell, the retiring president, in a brief talk and appropriate to the occasion, expressed her thanks to the members who had so ably assisted her in carrying out the year's program and assisting her in keeping the club along the line of progress, and presented Mrs. Gabe Cazell, the new president, with her gavel. Mrs. Cazell, who will direct the policies of the club in its new year, in a short talk, outlined the things which she had in mind now for the way in the coming term, wherein she will preside as president. She asked the support of the officers and members of the club to carry on to the best advantage.

Round Table Discussion.

Following this, the day's program on "American Music" was carried out. Mrs. Gabe Cazell led in the absence of the leader for the day, Mrs. D. S. Buchanan. Mrs. Walker read a paper on "McDowell," the American composer. Mrs. Lynn Harter read a paper written by Mrs. William Wimberly on "America's Position in Music." Two musical selections, "To a Wild Rose," by McDowell, and "Gondoliers," by Nevin, were rendered on the piano by Miss Julia Ball. Miss Nellie Ruth Martin played "August Sunset" by Hamer. A round table discussion then took place on "What Is Being Done to Promote Interest in Music in America Today."

CRYING NEED BRYAN DISTRICT TO TAKE IN GREATER TERRITORY

Of the many problems of an educational nature that one now confronting this county is that of the transfer. There is a growing tendency in the rural districts today to seek better educational advantages for a larger number of the country children, and some of these people seem to think that when they have transferred the state and county appropriation to the school of their choice, that the school should give their children a nine-months' schooling. This idea is erroneous for the fact that the state and county funds are not sufficient to pay all the expenses of a 9 month's school, said Mr. McDonald, who furnished the data for this story. This can be easily shown from the following facts. During the last few days, the county superintendent of Brazos county, D. J. McDonald, has transferred to the Bryan City School 169 pupils. These pupils each carry with them $12, which amounts to $2,028. These same pupils would require about five teachers at a reasonable cash wage of $1,200 each. This would make the 169 pupils cost the town school about $6,000. This seems to be unjust. No one could expect any improved school system to allow such a condition to continue.

Must Pay Tuition.

Now there are some of these transfers that ought to be a part of the Bryan school system. In other words, some of these children live in the edge of the town of Bryan, and at the same time they are living in another school district. They pay their local tax to the school district where they live and are forced to pay tuition for larger part of the school term in the city school. This should not be. The town of Bryan ought to take in these children and let their tax be paid into the Bryan independent district. The same condition is true at the College Consolidated school, except that College Consolidated has a greater expense on account of having to use trucks to get the pupils to the school.

A concrete example might make this matter more clear. There are children living near the convent on East Ursuline Avenue who attend the Bryan school, of course, but who live in the Steep Hollow district and pay their local tax into that school. It is out of the question for them to go to Steep Hollow, some four miles distant, when Bryan East Side school is so much closer and offers so many other advantages.

Not Fair to Residents.

There are students on the Smetana road, just outside of Bryan, who reside in the Smetana district. They attend Bryan school and pay tuition for a part of the year for the privilege of doing so when it would be absurd to think of sending them clear out to Smetana school.

These are just a few instances, but will point out the urgent need of Bryan taking in a larger area in the outskirts and the immediate vicinity beyond, in the city school district. This is a matter of justice to people who live in Bryan, though not close in. It would seem that the present unsatisfactory condition is not quite fair, to them, said Mr. McDonald.

APPEALS COURT IN REVERSAL OF DANSBY INSURANCE CASE

AUSTIN, Apr. 26.—Judgment on a $5,000 fire insurance policy recovered by M. F. Dansby in the district court of Brazos county against the National Liberty Insurance Company, and affirmed by the court of civil appeals, was reversed by the supreme court and the cause remanded for another trial.

Foundation Was Left.

This policy was issued to Dansby on a two-story shingle roof frame dwelling and additions thereto, including heating and lighting apparatus. The dwelling was completely destroyed by fire and nothing was left but two stone steps and the concrete foundation. The insurance company contested the payment of the full amount of the policy of $5,000 on the ground that the property was not a total loss, the concrete foundation and the two stone steps not being damaged. Dansby, however, was awarded the full amount of the policy by the lower courts, but the supreme court sustained the contention of the insurance company that the property was not a total loss.

Theretic Lay Question.

"We think it is a question of fact as to whether the foundation of the building is a substantial part of the structure," said the opinion of the supreme court, "as compared with the value of the entire building, and if so, then it is a further question of fact as to whether or not it is reasonably adopted for use as a basis upon which to restore the building."

MEETING WELLBORN DISCUSSES SCHOOL MATTERS OF INTEREST

Meetings are being held over the district comprising the A. and M. Consolidated School area for the purpose of explaining the situation at stands at present. County Superintendent D. J. McDonald, Principal George B. Wilcox of the A. and M. School, Dean H. C. Winkler and W. L. Hughes, both of the A. and M. College, motored out to Wellborn on Friday night where a meeting of school patrons was addressed by them.

It appears that the A. and M. Consolidated School has students far in excess of its capacity, according to the speakers, and some means has to be devised to take care of the emergency. It was intimated that the Consolidated School was the child of Dr. W. B. Bizzell who used an appropriation made by the State for the erection of a fine home for himself, to build the school which he thought would be a model for other schools to follow and which, it is said, has lived up to expectations.

Putting It Before People.

It was built primarily for a rural high school but accommodated all the grades as well. Beginning operations with 275 pupils, the school now has 400 and all that it can care for.

Therefore the increase must be handled in some other manner. As no funds are available at this time for construction and equipment of other buildings, it is thought best to have separate schools for the first four grades at each of the following points: Wellborn, Shirook and Union Hill. Only one extra teacher will have to be provided under this plan which would be much cheaper than to provide the necessary facilities at the present location and transportation as well.

The purpose of these sectional meetings, and another was scheduled for Saturday night at Rock Prairie, is to bring the facts of the matter before the general public and school patrons.

RECORD RAINFALL IN BRYAN AND VICINITY

(From Saturday's Daily)

A thunderstorm and heavy rain started falling in the early morning hours of the night and has continued with little abatement throughout the day. Up to 9 o'clock this morning 1.68 inches had fallen and at 2 o'clock this afternoon the government gauge maintained by the Geo. A. Adams Insurance Agency had recorded 1.10 inches more, or a total of 2.78 inches. Considerable precipitation has occurred since that hour.

The only local damage, except to streets and feet of pedestrians, and cars that have been stalled, seems to have been to the electric lines from power plant to consumers. Lights have been off at intervals during the day, and the Eagle has been somewhat handicapped in getting out the paper as the office is run entirely by electricity.

The state papers contain some news of storm havoc in different parts of the country north Texas suffering considerable. No local damage has been reported so far today.

Those enjoying the occasion, in addition to those mentioned above, were: Messrs. Robert and Wallace Wilcox, Glenn Cloud, Bill Hughes, C. B. Moehman, Jerome Hanover, Stuart Cole; and Misses Annie Vanderwerth, Lilla Graham Bryan, and Pauline McCulloch.

Mr. Thomas said he found no store in either of these towns that compared with his own in size, quantity of stock carried, etc., but that he gained much information from the visit with the managers of these stores that he will use to good advantage in his own store.

CARPENTERS UNION OFFERS GIVE SUM OF $350 TO FUND BE RAISED FOR PURCHASE "LEONARD MOREHEAD MEMORIAL HOME"

BRYAN, April 26th. To the Citizenship of Brazos County: As you know Leonard Morehead met an untimely death a few weeks ago to the great regret and sorrow of all our people. That he was faithful, efficient and diligent no one will deny; that he was a good man, patriotic citizen and loyal friend all must admit. Like so many good men, in the prime and buoyancy of life, death was remote to him, and being a man of moderate means he accumulated but very little property. The estate left to his widow and children is very small, and what is herein proposed is in recognition of his many splendid qualities which can be shown only by making some provision for the care and protection of his loved ones left behind.

It has been proposed and suggested by the Carpenters Union of Bryan, of which Leonard Morehead was a much respected and honored member, that the many loyal friends of Morehead build and erect a comfortable home for Mrs. Morehead and children to be known as "The Leonard Morehead Memorial Home", and present same to Mrs. Morehead. This organization, out of love for their friend who met such a tragic death, agrees to start such movement by donating three hundred and fifty dollars.

This suggestion and proposal occurs to me to be a most worthy project, and not only to me but to a great number of his friends who have discussed the matter with me. It is therefore, hereby proposed that the friends of Leonard Morehead here and elsewhere make possible the consummation of the above idea by making such donation as each may desire to make. The plumbers of Bryan have promised and agreed to do all plumbing work in the construction of said home.

It will take somewhere around five thousand dollars to erect an adequate home such as we would be willing to present and in which we will feel a just pride. Messrs. John M. Lawrence, W. H. Cole and J. D. Martin have kindly agreed to act as an executive committee in handling this matter, and will attend to the securing of a desirable location, letting the contract and general supervision of the building and construction of the home.

Every citizen of Brazos county and the friends of Leonard Morehead everywhere are, accordingly invited to join in this worthy enterprise. Any amount you wish to contribute can be left with any of the banks of Bryan to be deposited to the credit of the Morehead Memorial Home. We suggest that you do that as it will be less trouble to all parties concerned.

It is needless to say that in contributing to this fund you will have the undying appreciation of Mrs. Morehead and her children.

J. E. COVEY.

CHURCHES OF BRYAN WILL BE ASKED TO FORM BOY SCOUT TROOPS NOT DRAWN ON ANY DENOMINATIONAL LINES, MEETING DECIDED

A meeting of the local council of the Boy Scouts of Bryan was called by Chairman T. A. Adams, who is also vice president and member of the district council, for Wednesday afternoon at the office of the Chamber of Commerce. Adams stated that the meeting Mr. Adams stated that he did not expect to understand his duties or position as a director in Boy Scout work and suggested that he be instructed before the other business of the meeting was taken up.

W. S. Barron, local scoutmaster and president of the district council took the floor and explained the Scout organization as it applied more locally to conditions, asking C. C. Ragan, executive head in this district, to check him as he proceeded.

Patrol the Unit.

Only boys over 12 years of age may be taken into the Scout organization. Eight boys form a patrol and not more than 4 patrols or 32 boys may be included in a troop. Each city or locality may have as many troops as desired, each troop to have a scoutmaster, two assistant scout masters, and three committeemen, or six directors in all. The institution sponsoring or fostering the organization of a troop of 32 boys, or less, has direct control of the activities of that troop and may direct their movements. There is also a local council and chairman which has some duties with regard to all the troops of one locality. The chairman is also vice president in the district council. There are also four committees: a court of honor to pass on Scout tests for promotion, medals, etc.; camp and outdoor activities, which is self-explanatory; troop organization, which sees that new troops are getting started in good shape; and business and finance, which is also explanatory in itself.

Executive Employed.

The chairman of local councils are members of the district board. The district which is called the Brazos Valley Council consists of four counties: Burleson, Grimes, Brazos and Madison. The district or Brazos Valley Council has employed C. C. Ragan as executive and pays him a salary of $200 per month with $50 traveling expenses. He works under the direction of the councils and keeps things moving in regular and scout-like order. W. S. Barron is the president of the Valley council.

The principal purpose of this meeting Wednesday afternoon was to appoint committees to further Scout work in Bryan. After some discussion it was decided that Messrs. Adams and Barron take this matter under advisement and secure men who would fit and would serve in the different ways needed.

The Church To Serve.

Mr. Barron said that there was immediate need for the organization of additional troops in Bryan. Since the agitation on Scout work has received a new impetus there are many boys locally who want to become Scouts. However, there is a shortage of leaders and there is necessity for some institution such as church or school to sponsor the organization of troops.

It was the consensus of opinion after considerable talk, that the churches were the logical and proper institutions for the organization of troops and each church would be asked to sponsor the forming of one or more; but not on denominational lines. Each boy solicited and secured in membership would be permitted to bring "his gang" into the troop irrespective of denominational tendencies or membership. The churches which will not take an active part in such movement would soon find that their boys were leaving them and would have to get behind the sponsoring of troops and do some work of their own in order to hold their boys. Thus, if one or two churches get busy the rest will have to.

Talks from Pulpit.

In connection with this plan it was decided that talks would be made from the pulpits of the several churches by Mr. Barron, Mr. Adams or Executive Ragan, on different occasions and the matter laid before the several and various congregations. Then the churches would take up the work in a business-like manner and when a troop was started the church would select a scoutmaster, his assistants and directors or three committeemen. These men to serve that one troop and to direct its activities through the church that fostered its formation.

Those present at the meeting Wednesday afternoon were: Chairman T. A. Adams; district president, W. S. Barron; executive, C. C. Ragan; J. D. Martin, C. G. Walker, E. E. Warren, Travis B. Bryan, Mayor Tyler Haswell, Wilson Bradley, Rev. H. C. Willis, W. I. McCulloch and Sam E. Eberstadt, with H. D. Cuykendall of the Bryan Eagle attending. A number of those requested to attend were absent, among them a number of pastors.

Rotary Anns Guests.

A large attendance was out Friday night to be present on Ladies' Night of the Bryan Rotary Club. A banquet was the attraction for all, in addition to the fact that each Rotary was asked to bring a Rotary Ann—his wife or some other Ann.

Gabe Cazell, song-leader elect, led the singing of Rotary songs. Vocal solo numbers were rendered by Gabe Cazell, Jr., little son of Mr. and Mrs. Gabe Cazell, Jr., little son of Miriam Crute and Zell. Miss Helen Heard on the piano for the two latter numbers.

Talks were made by H. H. Williamson of College on the "Serious Side of Rotary," telling what it means, plans to do and what it does; by Mrs. Stuart McSwain on "What It Means to be a Rotary Ann," and by Mrs. Law Henderson the latter expressing the appreciation of the Anns for the invitation to be present on this memorable occasion. At the close of the banquet meeting, M. E. Wallace, past president of Bryan Rotary Club, presented W. S. Barron, retiring president, with a diamond mounted past-president's pin, a gift from the club members. "Good-night Ladies" closed a most enjoyable evening for everyone present.

THIS NEW TREATMENT NEVER FAILS TO END PILES

Many sufferers from Piles or Hemorrhoids have become despondent because they have been led to believe that their case was hopeless and that there was nothing in the world to help them.

To these people we say, "Go to your druggist and get an original box of MOAVA SUPPOSITORIES." One of these inserted into the rectum according to directions will be found to give immediate relief. They reach the source of the trouble and by their soothing, healing, antiseptic action first allay the pain and soreness and then by direct contact with the ulcers and piles cause them to heal up and disappear forever.

It's simply wonderful how speedily they act. Blessed relief often comes in two days. Even in cases that have steadily resisted all known treatments, marvelous results have been obtained.
